Hi Dennis,

Kim Williams and Nunamta want to meet with you because of the attached article that they found very concerning, especially the quote I printed below:

“An official with EPA Region 10, covering the Pacific Northwest, did not want to be identified for this story but said the agency has no intention of taking any regulatory action in the foreseeable future.”

The interpret this as R 10 having lost its resolve to issue the assessment and they want to be able to discuss this with you in person. I suggested that you could call her but they want person to person at this point. If the assessment were to be released before the meeting which Matt may be scheduling for next Tues morning, the importance of the meeting might fade.
